

BASICS OF TELECARDIOLOGY eLEARNING COURSE:

About this course package:

This course introduces Telecardiology practice and the identification of patients suitable for remote monitoring. It also explores the potential benefits and patient-centered barriers to implementation, along with key communication considerations unique to the field.

Who should take the course?

Health care clinicians and professionals who are seeking to integrate or enhance telecardiology services within their practice.

- Physicians
- Physician Assistants
- Cardiac Rehab Coordinators
- Cardiologists
- Medical Assistants
- Health IT & Analysts
- Nurse Practitioners
- Administrators
- Students
- Nurses
- Pharmacists

Does this course offer CE credit?

Learners can earn up to 3.0 continuing education credits with the full course package.

- Physicians (AMA) – 3.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™
- Physician Assistants (AAPA) – 3.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™
- Nurse Practitioners (AANP) – AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™
- Nurses (ANCC) – 3.0 contact hours
- Pharmacists (ACPE) – 3.0 contact hours

How to purchase?

Visit the American Heart Association Professional Education Hub™ – a digital learning and continuing education (CE) platform for health care professionals from a trusted name.

Access anytime and from anywhere – education.heart.org

What does it cost?

This course includes the following modules, available as a complete package or individually:

| Course Title | Price |
|---|-----------------|
| Remote Patient Monitoring in Telecardiology (0.75 CE) | $49.00 |
| Benefits, Barriers, and Opportunities in Telecardiology (1.0 CE) | $49.00 |
| Communication in Telecardiology (0.75 CE) | $49.00 |
| Complete Course Package (3.0 CE) | $119.00 |

Our programs are built for professionals who want practical, immediately applicable skills they can put to work right away.

Please direct your sales inquiries to education.sales@email.education.heart.org